

Katie's Cooking! a cookbook celebrating life after childhood cancer

Katie is a 6-year-old girl who was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL) just before her third birthday. During her more than two-year battle with the disease, she wished that she could help other children with cancer. Katie had the idea to create a cookbook and to donate the proceeds to help other children with cancer.

Katie's Cooking! a cookbook celebrating life after childhood cancer is not a traditional local community-based cookbook. With over 780 recipes, this cookbook has the hottest celebrity chefs of today, the most requested recipes from some of the top restaurants from around the country, and the best community-shared recipes from around the world!! Plus, every time you open this book, you will see the beautiful faces and stories of over 70 children from six different countries who have been diagnosed with cancer.

Here are just a few of the many wonderful participants:
